Dear Parents/Carers,

6th November 2024

Infant Decoration Day

On Wednesday 4th December, we will be holding a Christmas Decoration Day at the Infant school to begin our school festivities.

We would like to invite our parents in to come and join in with their own child in making Christmas craft. Grandparents or other relatives are welcome to come instead, if parents are not able to attend. We ask that no more than two adults attend for each child. All the children will be making various decorations in school during the session, regardless of whether a parent/relative is able to attend or not. These children may also benefit from a music session with Mrs. White-Joubert.

We are holding the session in the afternoon from 2:15pm to 3:15pm.

If you have more than one child in the school, please feel free to move between classes to spend equal time with each or organise an additional adult to attend with each additional child.

Dragonflies Session held in the classroom.

Ladybirds Session held in the classroom.

Bumble Bees Session held in the Hall.

Caterpillars Session held in the classroom.

In line with the notification sent by teachers on Class Dojo, if you would like to take part, please let the teachers know through that system.

If your session coincides with the end of the school day, please ensure a member of class staff has signed out your child to you before you depart for safety reasons.

We are all very much looking forward to starting our Christmas activities and hope you will support us in the fun.

Yours sincerely,

Bradley Young
Headteacher
